Employees at the Potomac Mills area headquarters in Westmoreland County in the Warsaw Residency are proud of the much-needed face lift the headquarters has received. The property, which is located on Va 3 between Washington's Birthplace and Westmoreland State Park, was rented from 1936, when the first truck shed was built, until its purchase by the Department last year. The lot has been enlarged, a new warming house (left photo) and a new fuel shed and equipment shed (right photo) have been completed, and a large chemical shed is under construction. What had become something of an eyesore during the last two decades is now a modern and attractive facility.

About 140 employees in the Saluda Residency attended a picnic on July 11. Left: Employees and their families help themselves to hamburgers and hotdogs. Right: Contributing to the entertainment are (from left) Sandy Jones, Cheryl Staton (daughter of J. F. Staton, project engineer), and M. D. Lawson, equipment operator in Middlesex County.

Sandra Kay Apperson, materials technician in the Fredericksburg District materials section, was married to Ford Tyson Humphrey, Jr., on July 5 at Falmouth Baptist Church.

Sandra Drummond was married to E. H. Paulson, Jr., inspector trainee in the Saluda Residency, on June 7 in Tabernacle United Methodist Church in Poquoson.
